Anti-Fascists Blamed, Italy Will Send Plane

Some Newspapers Say Destruction of de Pinedo Plane Was Caused by Anti-Fascist Agents—Mussolini Orders New Plane Be Sent—New Route Planned.

Rome, April 7 (AP).—Some newspapers today expressed the opinion that destruction of Commander de Pinedo's seaplane at the Roosevelt Dam in Arizona yesterday was caused by anti-Fascist agents. At the same time they voiced appreciation of the action of the United States in offering the Italian flier another machine.

The principal comment is printed by the Popolo di Roma under the heading: "Odious gesture of anti-Fascism abroad against the wings of de Pinedo."

While Italian aeronautical circles were pained and shocked at the news of the plane's destruction, the newspaper says, "They were not surprised, because official circles are fully informed of the unmentionable anti-national activities being carried on in America by a few expatriates."

This infinitely vile act of sabotage, which tried to crush the greatest enterprise human daring ever undertaken, was so clearly to be foreseen that its delay until this moment is remarkable.

This view, the newspaper says, is shared by the ministry of aeronautics, which has been following articles published by anti-Fascist organs in the United States and distributed by the thousands as leaflets. One of these is said to have read:

"The Pinedo is the messenger of Fascism, and therefore our worst enemy. We will know, however, how to give him an appropriate welcome when he arrives in America."

Mussolini Orders Plane. Upon learning of the destruction of the plane in which de Pinedo made his remarkable four-continent flight, Premier Mussolini ordered that an Italian air force plane be sent immediately, so that the plucky aviator might be able to carry out his plans to fly across the United States into Canada and back to Italy.

New Route Planned. Apache Lodge, Roosevelt Dam, Ariz., April 7 (AP).—Commander Francesco de Pinedo today planned a new route for the north American section of his four-continent tour, interrupted when his monoplane, the Santa Maria, burned on Roosevelt lake here yesterday, when a boy dropped a match on the oil covered water.

The Italian flier and his two companions were enthusiastic over the prospect of continuing the flight in a plane ordered shipped from Italy by Premier Mussolini. Although plans for the new route were only in the tentative stage today, de Pinedo has decided to assemble the replacement plane at New York.

Two routes furnished the basis for his plans. He said last night that after the plane was assembled at New York he hoped to fly to Boston, thence to Washington and New Orleans. He would then travel north to St. Louis and Chicago, where he may take off for Montreal. He would then fly to a point in Nova Scotia preparatory to using the north Atlantic route to Rome.

Assembly Plane at New York. In a telephone conversation with I. G. Perna, Italian vice-consul at San Diego, Cal., de Pinedo discussed plans to assemble the plane at New York and then fly along the Canadian border to the Pacific coast. He proposed to follow the coast south to San Francisco and San Diego where he would take off for New Orleans.

His original route would have taken him to San Diego, 400 miles west of here, thence northward along the Pacific coast to Seattle and eastward along the northern tier of states.

Although James Gibson, one of several boys in the boat from which the match was thrown, told of an argument with the youth who dropped the match, efforts to locate him were unsuccessful. Persons who witnessed the boys' quarrel over the danger of lighting a cigarette while the ship was rocking, could not identify the youth who dropped the match.

Gibson said they had argued while the tanks were being loaded with oil and gasoline and that as the plane was declared ready and de Pinedo was saying good-bye to his friends on shore, the boy threw the match. Facchetti, who was on the ship, forcing Del Frate and Facchetti to jump for their lives.

A government employee was accused in an attempt to corroborate the story.

ALLEGEDLY FROM AN ATTEMPT TO CORROBORATE THE STORY.

An other figure in the Easter Eve celebration of the West-Well Company of 49 Broadway, in the Freeman Wednesday night, made a record of 1,000 pieces of pure aluminum, valued at $1.00. The other had no record in the advertisement, and the award will be made at 50 cents, as appears in the advertisement published tonight.

Thompson Will Clean-Up Chicago

In Ninety Days the Crooks Will Be Practically Driven Out of Chicago, Says "Big Bill" as He Prepares to Take Over City's Chief Office.

Chicago, April 7 (AP).—Chicago gangsters "are going to hit the gravel so fast their shoes will burn up," "Big Bill" Thompson said today as he prepared to take over the city's chief office for a third time on April 18.

"The great evil" for gunmen, crooks and racket men will be among the first signs he will hang up after his inauguration, he declared.

"I'm going to drive all the gangsters and crooks out of the city—to New York, to Cleveland, to St. Louis and elsewhere. And maybe some of them will get to London," he added after he had been shown a London cablegram saying English newspapers in their accounts of the Chicago mayoralty election had pictured a reign of lawlessness and terror at the ballot boxes Tuesday.

"In ninety days the crooks will be practically driven out of Chicago. The police will be put back on police duties, instead of sniffing around for home brew and fanning mattresses for pints."

Mrs. Rita Lydig Is Bankrupt

New York, April 7 (AP).—Mrs. Rita De Costa Lydig, one time millionaire art collector and former fiancée of the late Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, today is bankrupt for $94,352, unable to pay among other things a $237 milk bill and $1,000 in servants' wages.

The millions she held previous to her divorces from W. E. D. Stokes and Major Philip Lydig, U. S. A., have vanished. Only assets of clothing, furniture and similar personal property of unestimated value are available for bills of Paris gown shops, jewelers, a motor company and servants. The city of New York is listed as a creditor for $296 personal taxes.

Mrs. Lydig filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy yesterday with the United States district court, French & Company, builders, with a bill of $28,543 and Elsie De Wolfe & Company, interior decorators, with an unpaid account of $12,732 were the principal creditors.

Oil Blast Toll Stands at 16

Parco, Wyo., April 7 (AP).—The death toll in the explosion of an oil still at the Producers and Refiners Corporation plant here yesterday stood at 16 today with three of the survivors fighting for their lives in Rawlins Hospital.

George Curry, one of the seven taken from the flaming plant, after they had been severely burned, died last night. Little hope was held for three others.

Damage was estimated from a half to three-quarters of a million dollars. The blast shattered virtually every window in the business district and damaged buildings throughout the town.

Other than to say the explosion occurred in a high pressure still of the cracking equipment for refining crude oil, officials have refused to discuss the affair pending results of their investigation.

Dies in Attempt To Save a Dog

Maplewood, N. J., April 7 (AP).—Stuart I. Weill, general sales manager of the Western Electric Company gave his life for a dog today. He was killed while trying to save the animal from an approaching train.

The dog, a stray Alsatian, was so badly hurt that it had to be shot. Weill was waiting at the Maplewood station of the Lackawanna Railroad to board a train for his office in New York.

The dog, wandering along the track, fell so hard to the ground, reaching up with its front paws at the wheels, that it was struck and decapitated when the train passed over the platform standing at the dog in an effort to save it from danger.

Found Dead on South.

Tomb, Ohio, April 7 (AP).—Mortimer C. Schaeffer, owner of the town of Tomb, Ohio, who has been in trouble with the police before, was struck today on the highway of a vacant building here. An automobile plowed with two empty carriages was lying nearby. Although the driver is named in a suicide theory, police said they were investigating the case.

Farmers Too Busy for Jury Duty Now

Consequently, Few Criminal Cases Are Expected to Be Tried at Present Term of County Court—Will Contest Settled.

County court held a brief session this morning at 10 o'clock and then adjourned until Monday, April 11, at 10 o'clock. Fifteen talesmen summoned were present and six presented legal excuses and were excused for the term.

Two civil actions on the day calendar were disposed of without trial. In the contest over the will of Elizabeth Reinhardt, deceased, a settlement had been arrived at between parties out of court and the case was stricken from the calendar. Frederick Stephan, Jr., appeared for propo-ponents and William D. Brinnier, Jr., for contestants. In the action of Andrew Quansstrom against Morris Newman, an action on contract, an important witness was seriously ill and the case went over. N. H. Fessenden appeared for plaintiff and Henry Klein for defendant.

Marshall Wanted Lawyer. Lewis Marshall, Jr., who is charged with having helped himself to an automobile without the owner's permission and consequently was indicted for grand larceny, was brought into court and stated that he had no means of employing counsel and asked the court to assign a lawyer. Matthew Cahill was assigned. Marshall is in jail.

Difficult to Get Jurors.

Although the criminal calendar contains twenty-eight cases it is not likely that many of them will be tried at this term of court on account of the difficulty in securing a jury at this time of the year. Farmers are busy with their spring planting and fruit growers are busy spraying and it is almost impossible to get a jury outside the city.

Witnesses have been subpoenaed in several cases for next week and it is possible that a few of the cases will be tried or disposed of on pleas. Marshall is the only jail case now awaiting disposition and consequently his case is at the head of the calendar for trial.

Police Check Up Triple Slaying

Henry Griffith is Alleged to Have Confessed That He Killed His Wife and Mr. and Mrs. Lawson, With Whom She Planned to Leave.

Bluefield, West Va., April 7 (AP).—Henry Griffith, 43, of Richlands, Va., was in Russell county, Va., jail at Lebanon today while police were checking his alleged confession that a nocturnal flight planned by his wife and two friends drove him to triple slaying.

Sheriff Henry H. Couch, of Russell county, said that Griffith, a father of eight children, had confessed to the slaying of his wife, Mrs. Mollie Griffith, and Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Lawson, of Richlands, friends with whom she had planned to leave the vicinity.

The bodies of the three were found in Church river, three miles from Swords Creek, Va., Tuesday afternoon by a telegraph lineman, and remained unidentified until yesterday, when Griffith was taken to Lebanon and identified them. He maintained for two hours that he knew nothing of the crime. Later it was said he confessed that at 2 o'clock on the morning of March 27 he had shot them and thrown the bodies in the river.

Griffith's story as told by the sheriff was that three weeks ago, Griffith's wife left her home after they had quarreled and that Griffith later learned she was staying with the Lawsons. Griffith told the sheriff he had found out that the three were preparing to leave the neighborhood at night and he set out in search of them. He was said to have related that he met the victims twelve miles from his home along the railroad tracks on a hill overlooking Church river and there asked his wife to return home with him. Her refusal the alleged confession said, was suggested by the statement from Lawson that she would not return.

Sheriff Couch said Griffith told him he had then shot Lawson, who ran and fell down over the bluff to the river, and that Griffith had turned to the women, dragging them to the bluff, and throwing them over into the stream.

Griffith's story was said by the sheriff to be a confession of the crime.

Supervisors Vote To Buy Golden Hill Site for Hospital

Will Secure 40 Acre Tract For $12,000 As Soon As Title Is Searched and Found Correct—Can Secure 150 Acres for $25,000.

A special meeting of the Ulster county board of supervisors was held at the court house Wednesday evening when the report of the committee on tuberculosis hospital and laboratory to which had been referred the matter of purchasing a new site was taken up and adopted. The members of the committee are Supervisors Young, Avery, Smith and Sweeney.

The committee reported an option had been obtained from A. Martin Graham for 40 acres of land on Golden Hill near the Boulevard, a payment of $50 having been made out of his own funds by Judge Joseph M. Fowler, president of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, managers. The amount asked for the tract was $12,000. The entire property contained 150 acres which could be had for $25,000.

Supervisor Shultz asked the opinion of members as to whether or not all the property should be purchased. Supervisors Schantz, Weiss, Markle, Thomas and Davis spoke as to the excellence of the site but considered 40 acres sufficient as that made a very big tract.

Resolution to Buy Property. Supervisor Young for the committee recommended closing of the purchase of the site after title is searched and found correct and surveys verified. Also that a certificate of indebtedness for $12,000 be issued payable March 1, 1928, to draw interest at five and one half percent, and that a warrant of $11,550 be given A. Martin Graham, and that Judge Fowler be reimbursed the $50 which he had advanced for the option.

The resolution also empowered the committee to have plans drawn with specifications for a hospital on the site after a clear title has been secured. The resolution was adopted ayes 11.

Supervisor Young moved that when the board adjourned it be out of respect to Charles E. Conklin, a former member, and a similar resolution was offered by Supervisor Britt that it adjourn out of respect to Patrick F. McDermott, also a former supervisor. Both resolutions were adopted.

Supervisor Schantz then moved the board adjourn out of respect to former Supervisors Conklin and McDermott, subject to call by the chair. Carried.

Value of Store Front to Business

Downtown Business Men's Association Hears Talk by Expert Who Explains Necessity of Making Business Fronts Attractive.

The main topic at the Downtown Business Men's Association meeting held Wednesday night in the Cornell Building, Ferry street, was "How to Display Merchandise to Sell It." The man who explained the need of attractive fronts in order to accomplish profitable sales was George Griffith, of the Kawneer Company of Niles, Michigan.

Mr. Griffith explained minutely the worth of modern window displays. His talk called to mind the things said by Arthur Lazarus about up-to-date methods of doing business and his helpful suggestions refreshed in the minds of the downtown merchants what the representatives of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation recently explained about lighting effects.

In his talk, Mr. Griffith told the merchants that the portion of the store bordering on the sidewalk was the most valuable asset of the business. This fact is realized by all successful concerns and many large stores that have branches in cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast pay most of the rent demanded by property owners for the excellent up-to-date windows. It was stated that David Meyers, superintendent of the windows for the United Cigar Stores Company, asserted that if $10,000 is paid in one year for the rent of a store, $7,000 of the aggregate is considered expended for the value of the show windows.

Power of Attracting Public. The store front is the power of attraction, said Mr. Griffith, and it is the main factor in calling attention to the store. If the windows attract the public's attention they will always remember the store when they wish to purchase merchandise. The quality of the merchandise displayed in the windows may be readily seen by the buyers, who shop by the aspect presented by windows; thus the store front proves one of the best salesmen the firm possesses.

Mr. Griffith also gave the merchants hints about the proper decoration of windows. He emphasized the fact that harmony in color, proper arrangement, cleanliness, good lighting effects, timeliness and the presence of window cards bearing prices all contribute toward the making of an attractive display. He also urged frequent changes in window displays. This tends to make passers-by take interest in the windows and acquaints all with the variety and quality of the stock on sale by the store.

Improvements Contemplated. The speaker was interviewed by a number of the merchants who enjoyed the talk and he personally explained all questions asked concerning the topic. A goodly number of the downtown business men signified intentions of improving their present store fronts and requested suggestions of Mr. Griffith.

The Kawneer representative was busily engaged today measuring a number of store fronts on lower Broadway and some of the merchants have plans in mind which they expect to complete for remodeling their stores in the near future.

Samuel Stern, president of the Downtown Business Men's Association, has been advocating the remodeling of store fronts for some time and made very favorable comments on the value of suggestions given by Mr. Griffith.

WOULD DISPOSE OF ITS TREASURY ASSETS.

Washington, April 7 (AP).—Permitted to distribute to its stockholders $22,000,000 of its treasury assets was sought from the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad.

The chief item of which the railroad intends to direct itself is $22,000,000 of Glen Alden Coal Company bonds, and the step will finally divorce the road from direct connection with anthracite mining operations.

PRICES BOOSTED IN GUAN'S NEW CLUB.

New York, April 7 (AP).—Texas Guan's new night club is more elevated. Even the name and the price of drinks have gone up.

The new club, having no connection with the select society of the same name, but so named because it accommodates that class paying guests, was opened last night at the corner of the 300 club, subjected to prohibition authorities. Gardenia, first nighters, dressed, have jumped from $1 to $2 since the last club closed.

Probe Death of George Morris.

New York, April 7 (AP).—Police today were investigating the death of George Morris, 43 years old, said to possess a criminal record both here and in Cleveland. Morris, dead from a wound in the head, was discovered last night by a policeman along the Broadway at Elmstreet.

Washington, April 7 (AP).—Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of war, was appointed today as special representative of President Coolidge to visit Nicaragua.

Marines Eager to Go to Shanghai

Transport Henderson Loaded to the Rails Awaits Signal to Shove Off for Shanghai—Marines Anxious.

San Diego, Cal., April 7 (AP).—Loaded to the rails with artillery, airplanes, machine guns and supplies, and carrying 1,500 adventure-hungry marines, the transport Henderson got up steam today and awaited the signal to shove off for Shanghai.

The last bit of equipment that could be stowed aboard was made ready for the voyage last night, and the marines, comprising the sixth regiment, went aboard after having said goodbye to wives, sweethearts, friends. So packed was the ship that six airplanes scheduled for space had to be left at the pier. They will be taken across later.

Several 75 millimeter guns were strapped to her upper decks. The sixth regiment goes to reinforce the regiment already at Shanghai under command of Brig-General Smedley D. Butler.

The men of the sixth, making their journey under command of Col. Harold Snyder, were not worried, apparently, by the fact that some lying machines had to be left behind. They were eager to go. They made that evident as they went aboard, making room at the marine base for several hundred more marines who had come here on special trains to form another regiment.

Situation Grows Worse at Hankow

Lawlessness in Hankow Increasing With No Effort to Check It—Americans Pressed to Hasten Their Evacuation.

Shanghai, April 7 (AP).—"Situation growing worse steadily" was the wireless report received here today from Hankow, where riotous anti-foreign outbreaks occurred over the week end.

Lawlessness in Hankow was increasing, with apparently no effort to check it. The commander of the United States Yangtze river patrol was pressing Americans remaining in the city to hasten their evacuation. Another Japanese cruiser had arrived.

Japanese were leaving Hankow in large numbers. 100 Germans were negotiating the charter of a steamer to take them away, and the members of the Russian colony were making preparations for their departure.

At Hankow, further up the Yangtze from Hankow, 100 Japanese, men, women and children, had taken quarters aboard gunboats and took because of the threatening situation.

Accepts Gift for Church. The program opened with a brief address of welcome and appreciation by Dr. Hoeve, pastor of the church. Dr. Hoeve mentioned for the benefit of the newcomers in the city the fact that the church organization was 268 years old, and gave a short sketch of the church's history. He spoke of the endowment fund having been created by gifts of money from Miss Sarah B. Reynolds, deWitt, Roosa, Mrs. George J. Smith, Miss Mary Isabella Forsyth and Major James H. Everett, and stated that another gift of tangible nature, which would give joy to succeeding as well as the present generation was the addition to, and enrichment of, the splendid organ recently and enlarged by Miss Reynolds some fifteen years ago. And so, as pastor of the church and in the name of the church and its consistory, Dr. Hoeve, accepted the beautiful new organ, chimes and harp, the magnificent gift of Mrs. Kathryn Heyo Boice, to whom he expressed due appreciation and gratitude. It might be added that not only in the gift of the addition to the organ did Miss Boice show her generosity but in the joy she made possible for some twelve hundred people who are privileged to listen to an evening of rarely beautiful and inspiring music.

Dry Agents Must Have Spotless Life

Washington, April 7 (AP).—A spotless life is an essential qualification for successful candidates for positions in the newly created bureau of prohibition, the civil service commission announced today in making public the requirements for the posts.

The commission indicated that a searching investigation in the candidates' past life would be one of the phases of the tests. Competitive examinations were announced for approximately 2,000 of the 2,500 positions to be filled.

"Finger prints will be made of all applicants who attain eligible rating," the commission said. "These will be used to check the accuracy of the applicants' statements as to arrest, indictment or conviction for crime or misdemeanor."

Smith Signs Port Authority Bill

Albany, N. Y., April 7 (AP).—Governor Smith today signed the bill giving the state's chief executive veto power over the acts of the New York commissioners of the Port Authority.

In a lengthy memorandum, Governor Smith reviewed his controversy with Governor Moore of New Jersey over the jurisdiction extended to that state restricting the exercise of full power by the Port Authority. He said that the reserved veto power in the interstate treaty was intended to safeguard both states against any abuse of power by a Port Authority composed of members of both states.

Recital at First Dutch Church for New Echo Organ

Twelve Hundred Guests Hear Exceptionally Fine Musical Program When New Echo Organ and Chimes, Gift of Mrs. Hewitt Boice, Is Formally Accepted by the Church.

The beautiful old First Reformed Church stretched its hospitality from one thousand to twelve hundred on Wednesday evening, to accommodate the guests of Mrs. Kathryn Heyo Boice at the organ recital and inaugural hearing of the echo organ, chimes and harp, presented to the church by Mrs. Boice. Clarence Dickinson, Mrs. Dye, of New York city was the guest organist, with Mrs. Benjamin W. Johnston, soprano; Mrs. Charles Franklin Doty, contralto; Mrs. Florence Cusberry, violinist; the First Reformed choir and W. Whitins, Frobenburg, organist of the church, a fitting in the program.

The following are the specifications of the echo organ, showing plainly that this valuable addition to the fine organ which was the gift of the late Miss Sarah B. Reynolds had in no way lessened the showiness of the organ, but had very materially increased its possibilities for exquisite and beautiful effects:

Echo organ installed by the Hall Organ Company of West Haven, Conn.

Gedackt 8 feet, viol d'amour 8 feet, Vox angelica 8 feet, vox humana, echo bass 16 feet, tubular chimes 21 notes, harp 49 notes, celeste 49 notes.

Tremolo
Echo to Great Great Harp
Echo 4 ft.
Echo 16 ft.
Swell Chimes
Great Chimes
Damper Control

While the chimes are always very attractive, perhaps the harp and vox humana are particularly beautiful in this echo organ which is placed in the front of the church, at the end of the gallery to one's right on entering the church. The inconspicuous pipes are simply decorated to harmonize with the framework of the beautiful memorial window back of the pulpit.

In fact it is a matter for congratulation that the additions of the two modern organs have so completely and inconspicuously harmonized with the perfect ecclesiastical architecture of the historic church.

It was a happy thought on the part of Mrs. Boice to include in the organ's program the musicians of the church, who for many Sundays and on other occasions have so materially added to the inspiration of the church services when there was no unwonted audience to enjoy their music.

Accepts Gift for Church. The program opened with a brief address of welcome and appreciation by Dr. Hoeve, pastor of the church. The first number played by Dr. Dickinson was the graceful and finely executed overture to "Der Freischuetz" by Weber, and the organist of the Fifth Avenue Brick Presbyterian Church, New York city, made no attempt to play a master musician.

"Ave Maria" an arrangement by Liszt, of a lovely old melody by the sixteenth century Flemish composer, Jacques Arcadelt, brought beautifully into play practically all of the features of the echo organ. It is worthy of note, that by means of this addition to

NO LOSS is commensurate with that of the annual waste caused by forest fires. The government through its department of forestry has endeavored to use every possible precaution. In every woods and forest you will find signs urging precaution against lighted matches, campfires, etc. The method of extinguishing forest fires costs the government millions of dollars annually. The economic loss measured in dollars and cents is not the only loss. No material is more essential to the progress of our civilization, to our comfort and welfare than lumber. We need it for a thousand different purposes. It is even now difficult to procure all the lumber needed. Even the manufacturers of pencils are beginning to wonder where all the red wood needed in the next 20 years will come from. The countries in Europe are now experimenting with a substitute for the American red cedar; the price of which is rapidly becoming prohibitive. Reforestation, of course, is necessary if we are to have lumber. It seems like something akin to a tragedy to cut down a tree which has taken many years to grow. The useless destruction of trees should receive serious condemnation. Trees are not only essential to shade and beauty but are necessary for protection. A community with many trees is a far healthier community in which to live than one which has no trees. A home does not seem complete without trees about it. There is something so very wonderful and real about a tree. It knows many secrets, has weathered many storms, and can tell you a great deal if you only have ears to listen. Reforestation is being urged by our government and funds are being created for that purpose. Rebuilding of the American forests is a big undertaking and must be conducted by experts. But, on Arbor Day, every person can help a little to make the community in which we live healthier and more beautiful. Plant a tree, watch it grow, and some day with pride you will recall the day when you dug a hole in the ground and put a twig into it. PLANT A TREE.

RED BUG PROVES MOST ANNOYING TO MARINES

Leathernecks and Bluejackets in Nicaragua Fight Tropical Cooties With Kerosene.

Bragman's Bug, Nicaragua.—The tropical cooties, the red bug, is fifty times more annoying than the cooties with which the United States troops had to contend while overseas during the World war, according to the marines and bluejackets who are encamped here enforcing the neutral zone.

The red bug is a tiny species of tick, about the size of a pin head. It is colorless and lives in the grass. Whole nests of the pests attack themselves to human beings who are so unfortunate as to brush against them. The wind, too, which blows in strong gusts here, carries them.

Marines here are bothered by red bugs during the daytime and by mosquitoes at night so they spend most of their time smothered from head to foot with kerosene, which not only kills the red bugs but keeps the mosquitoes away.

When a red bug alights on the skin it is invisible. But it soon bores its way in, sucking blood while it does so and becoming red and visible. By this time the skin itches vigorously and there is a large lump visible. It scratches is the only way to get the little pest out, and even were he not in there, the victim could not resist scratching, the itching being worse than smothering. Scratching removes the parasite, but leaves an itching, bleeding sore that is bothersome for several days.

While the marines do not hesitate to curse the red bugs, they take them good naturedly, as they do everything else. On the bulletin board outside one of the tents where the marines are encamped appeared a sign announcing that a five dollar prize would be given for the best limerick on the red bug. The more literary marines at once got busy with pencil and paper. This is the limerick that won the prize:

A detestable bug is the red bug,
Far more esteemed as a dead bug.
He alights on your skin
And bores his way in,
Not remaining outside like the bed bug.

Surgeon's Possibilities
Electric tools for surgeons are reducing the time required for operations, decreasing the shock to patients and endowing the operator's hands with keener skill. One of these is a "bone mill" driven by motor with various saw and grinder attachments. It enables surgeons to do bone work hitherto considered almost impossible.

Tailored Coat Is Given Preference

Lines of Spring Models Are Softened by Treatment of Materials.

The spring coats and hats have arrived and the models denote very clearly the new styles. The immediate impression, says a fashion correspondent in the New York Times, is that of a subtle blending of simplicity and grace, of the severe and the ornamental. The fashionable coat for spring is cut on strictly tailored lines, and then is softened with a gentle elaborating handling of the fabric. This is one manner of working out the design, and constitutes the full extent to which the feminized model departs from the masculine tailor-made which is the conventional standard of smartness in street dress, sports clothes and, especially, in coats. The architecture of the spring coat is in the main one of straight lines, and the uncurved silhouette is shown to be still the mode, though the detail may suggest variation and add interest to a clever creation, however naive it may appear to be.

At first glance the spring models seem not to differ greatly from the styles of last autumn, but models from the best designers disclose points of distinction and much charm. There is an air of refinement about the new coats, contrasting to the bold and often bizarre modes of a year ago, plainly and most attractively illustrated in the first offerings from prominent Parisian couturiers.

In this group of French origin is a novelty from Molyneux, a reversible coat that will answer most happily the requirements of many occasions. Molyneux is the author of this model, which is made of gray and blue, herringbone, one side being of one color and the lining of the other. A detail in trimming is added in three strapbands of the cloth about the bottom, black stitched on the gray side and is reverse order. The neck is finished with a very simple collar of gray clipped caracul, the only touch of fur to the garment.

Tucks Instead of Seams. Louise Boulanger also uses kasha-duvetyne in her model, which is done in two shades of brown, barana and walnut. This design is strikingly original. In place of the regulation seams, the coat is fitted with diagonal tucks radiating from the high round line of the neck, yoke-depth over the front, back and shoulders. This is finished with a narrow strap collar and cravat with ends that tie, and has no fur. The coat itself is made of the higher shade of brown, lined with the dark, and a cut-out border in geometric pattern of faille is applied about the bottom of the coat and in narrow bands at the wrists.

One more design of distinction comes from the Paris house of Paquin, a departure from the stereotyped garment illustrating an uncommon variation of line. This too is a straight cut coat, made of a velvety quality of devotene in a soft shade of terra cotta, with several new features in detail. One is the long shoulder, running an exaggerated radius, with the seam dropped far down on the arm. Another is the cuff of soft gray herringbone fur, setting the arm close to the sleeve of a dress and extending far over the hand, and the small turnover collar of which the back only is made of the fur. On the back of the coat a two-inch blue band of the cloth is cut into the form of a panel, beginning at each shoulder seam, and rounded at the bottom, in the form of a deep 'C' which is the handsome quality of the neck in new fashion styles.

The American Couturier. American collections of spring coats include a brown duster. In these, but with a number of models made of the soft herringbone type of goods, and the growing number of coats, except those in sports, are shown in gray colors.

These of simpler design are without any particular diversity and wholly untrammelled with anything other than a light fur, usually just on the collar, some models having a band along the edge of the front. The new and more important styles are illustrating the varied lines, apparently quite simple but in reality complicated and very skillfully done. These curves and angles are designed to outline the figure in slim silhouette, in most flattering manner, emphasized with stitching which forms a lock. The very latest treatment of the seam has the appearance of tucks with edge facing like a small inverted plait known as the slit seam. This is particularly effective in the plain fabric—covert, reps, broadcloth and kasha in the smooth surface finish; manitoba, a coating designed for general town wear, and gleamcord, a firm, practical lustrous cloth with rayon threads, a perfect reversible.

Coat of Kasha Duvetyne, Deep Oval Panels, New Sleeve and Cuff.

One coat made in America promises to have a decided vogue among the younger set. It is made of kasha in two shades of tan, reversible and shows a cleverly constructed collar which may be worn on either side. This is formed of a strip of American caracul, clipped very close, the shade of the darker tone of the cloth. Another of these simple, straight-line coats is made of beige kasha and is lined with the same material of the exact shade, with a small collar and rather wide cuffs of gamba lapels that tones from cream to brown. This type of coat, which is both becoming and youthful, has caught the fancy of smartly dressed women and is being done in all the new colors, lined with the same shade or with another harmonious color, sometimes reversible according to the latest mode, and by some designers lined or faced with fancy silk.

Next in popularity, perhaps, is the coat of one of the new figured stuffs, self-toned or two-toned, and in a few models, in mixtures or sharply marked blocks of checks. A lovely coat of the more elaborate type is made of gray homespun, soft in weave but rather loosely woven.

Adhere to Simplicity. Spring coats of American design and manufacture adhere in the main to the season's standard of simplicity. But both originality and sense of form are illustrated in the great number of models gradually being brought out. To describe briefly one coat that may be worn with a tailored one-piece frock, a soft gown or make part of an ensemble is of rep bloom, in manitoba, one of the new and lovely shades of brown. In this model tucking, which has been given emphasis by all of the designers, both French and American, is introduced in clusters. On the back of the coat a small group of tucks extends from each shoulder straight to the hem. At the front, tucks in these clusters of three or five form two deep points, the upper one of which begins at the hip.

In sports coats designed for practical athletic activities there are many chic styles—the chevrons, homespun, checks and mixtures. A coat that will be seen often with sports frocks and as part of a sports ensemble is a short model showing tub or tunic lines of the usual plaited skirt. One of these is made of navy manitoba, in severely plain in the back and has a front varied with seam lines that begin at the shoulder and form geometric patterns in the shape of a large pocket at each side. The front of the skirt is laid in narrow box pleats, the back width being perfectly plain. The sleeves are simply tailored and the neck of the coat has a narrow, deep revers collar, softened by the crease that attaches to the blouse underneath and is tied at one side of the neck with long ends.

Among the emerging styles for late spring and early summer is a coat that has had great success at the Southern resorts. It is made of white diagonal chevron crepe in black figure, is capriciously tailored with just a touch of blouse waist to a cross section of the material on each large side pocket.

THE GAPOOZIC

It was the day before the Fairy Queen's birthday.

Of course the Fairy Queen is always young and always beautiful.

She has a birthday, though, as all the little fairies insist upon having some day, in which they can pay her special compliments and have a special celebration.

A birthday celebration, they all feel, is so wonderful.

They love to plan for a birthday party. Somehow, though, this time they had thought and thought and had not been able to think up anything.

Well, at last, when nothing had been settled and the fairies were becoming rather discouraged, it was decided that a committee of fairies was to be chosen and they must decide what was to be done.

So the six fairies who were chosen went off into the woods.

Through an opening in the woods one of the fairies saw a very unusual thing and called the other fairies, saying:

"I see such a strange looking creature in that valley over there."

"Let's go over to him and see if he can suggest anything," said another fairy.

The Gaipozic Shook and Shook.

So the six little fairies lifted their silver wings and alighted in the valley very near where the strange looking creature was standing.

He proved to be a very funny little old man with a very solemn face.

"Who are you?" asked the fairies.

"I'm the Gaipozic," the old man answered.

"We never heard of you. Where do you live—with the real people or by yourself in the woods?"

"In the daytime I live in this valley—always by myself—where it is nice and sunny, and at night I sleep in the woods."

"My only friends are the crows, for they tell me funny stories and I give them presents."

"What do you mean, Gaipozic?"

"Why, if anyone can tell me a funny enough joke to make me laugh I shake all over, and when I shake I drop presents all around."

"Oh, how wonderful!" the fairies shouted.

"Will you come to the Fairy Queen's birthday party tomorrow?"

"We'll tell you all the jokes you like if you'll shake and drop beautiful presents for her."

"Promise!" he cried.

The next day the Fairy Queen was requested to sit upon her throne while the fairies gathered around, and in the center stood the Gaipozic.

"Many happy returns, Fairy Queen," they all cried.

Then the fairies began to tell jokes and the Gaipozic shook and shook with laughter, and presents dropped from him.

How delighted they all were, and the Fairy Queen had the most wonderful birthday she had ever had.

A letter from President Erskine

I am very glad to hear that your motorists, like those in other sections, are responding enthusiastically to the Commander with its lowered price and heightened performance. It is indeed a triumph worthy of Studebaker's Diamond Jubilee.

One of America's leading business men has written me that The Commander is "the greatest feat of post-war engineering."

Any one in your community who spends more than $1500 for a car and does not purchase a Commander or a President has made a serious mistake for which you should feel accountable.

If you give every such person an opportunity to drive a Commander these mistakes will not occur.

Tells Rotary About Training Children

Week of Children's Village Described —Young People Who Are Temporarily Abnormal Source of Potential Danger.

Leonard W. Mayo, executive secretary of Children's Village, near Dobbs Ferry, was the speaker, and Miss Doremus and a number of supervisors were guests at the Rotary luncheon at the Governor Clinton on Wednesday. Mr. Mayo, who frankly stated that his purpose was to tell something with profit to the buyers, spoke at length on the need for and the functions of the Children's Village, which cares for and trains children that are either criminal or mentally defective, but are a source of potential danger because of something temporarily abnormal about them and their way of seeking self expansion. This is the day of specializing and the Children's Village specializes in these cases, seeking to form rather than to reform.

Several cases were cited, one of a boy with what the speaker termed a fanciful imagination but what the lay mind expressing itself in lay language would term a precocious and resourceful liar. This youngster told utterly imaginary tales of having lived in a cave, of the deaths of his father and mother, etc. He is slightly retarded in mental development but by no means feeble-minded. His physical condition is bad and his home surroundings were not good. He will never be a great scholar but can be made self supporting, as his brains are at his finger tips and he shows skill and dexterity in manual work. Dr. George S. Warren, chairman of the Rotary Committee on Crippled Children, reported progress with the case of a child paralyzed from the waist down as a result of infantile paralysis. The parents had consented to permit the boy to be treated and it was the opinion of Dr. Warren that treatment at the West Haverstraw Hospital would give results and the child could be enabled to walk.

The War as Seen Through the Eyes of a Soldier

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—The author describes how the first battalion of the Fifth Marines are quartered near Marigny during the first part of June, 1918, when they are suddenly sent north to relieve the First division, hearing the brunt of a tidal wave of German tanks breaking through for a great offensive. Part of the Fifth went Hill 143 from the enemy and wait there for the German counter offensive they can see forming. While they are peering the Boche a detachment of Second engineers comes to their assistance.

CHAPTER II.—A terrific German attack soon develops, wreaking fearful havoc among the marines, but not dislodging them. In the immediate vicinity other fierce encounters are reducing the American trenches and forcing the necessity of replacements which arrive presently. On the sixth of June the Fifth runs into bitter fighting in the vicinity of Champagne. For hours they try to oust the Boche from his stronghold in the woods and succeed commendably, but at great cost.

CHAPTER III.—This narrative centers about the activity of the marines as they stand in a cross section of all the fighting done by Americans. After acquiring themselves marvelously at the Bois de Belleau and Hill 143 early in June, 1918, the First received replacements to cover horrible losses. Right away more and more are relieved, somewhat compensated for their heavy losses by a notable tribute to their fighting qualities issued by the general commanding the Sixth French army, but the liberty in Paris which the battalion would have preferred is not forthcoming.

CHAPTER IV.—Despite behind the lines is soon crushed by new orders to proceed far to the north in the Bois de Belleau, where the Germans are beginning a vast, new offensive. After an all night's grueling forced march the battalion finally arrives at the new front. Their orders are to get into touch with the Moroccan division fighting with the French forces.

CHAPTER V.—On the morning of July 18, after a barrage from every French and American gun procurable, the American forces, with the 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, MEAT CONSUMPTION OF 1926 SHOWS INCREASE OVER 1925

Figures Show Producers Have Hard Task Keeping Pace With American Appetite.

Chicago.—Government figures just made available showing a large increase in total meat consumption for 1926 over 1925 while consumption per person was slightly less, indicate that live-stock producers have a difficult task in keeping pace with the American appetite for meat, according to D. A. Millett of Denver, prominent live stock breeder and chairman of the National Live Stock and Meat board, in a report to board members.

Mr. Millett pointed out that the total production of 17,246,000,000 pounds of meat for 1926 exceeded the previous year by 240,000,000 pounds. Per capita consumption was quoted at 142.8, whereas in 1925 it was 143.6. He attributed this slight drop of eight-tenths of a pound to the rapidly increasing population and emphasized that this condition indicated an absence of surplus supplies.

The fact that more beef was produced and consumed during 1926 than ever before was given emphasis by the board chairman. The official figures showed 7,458,000,000 pounds of beef produced and this not only broke all previous records but placed beef above pork in point of quantity. It was the first time for a number of years that cattle had furnished more meat than hogs.

This situation was attributed partly to the shortage of hogs which was experienced as a continuation of the downward trend following the over-production of 1923 and 1924.

The production and consumption of lamb was noted for its increase over the last several years. Production reached the highest mark since 1914 and per capita consumption was on the up grade, standing at 5.5 pounds. For the past three years this figure stood at 5.2. Total lamb and mutton production was placed at 848,000,000 pounds, which was larger by 44,000,000 pounds than the production of 1925.

Ships Scuttled in 1682

Are Found by Dredgers

Paris.—Two hundred and thirty-five years ago three armed vessels bearing vast treasure destined for the coffers of Louis XIV's treasury to carry on his wars were sunk by order of the admiral of Louis' fleet at the very entrance to Cherbourg harbor, whence almost every day great liners leave France on their way across the Atlantic.

The crew was saved, so history says, but guns, munitions and strong-bound chests filled with silver pieces vanished beneath the waters on that fateful battle day, May 20, 1682. Harassed by the pursuing enemy, the admiral of the fleet ordered the destruction of his vessels rather than they should fall into the hands of the adversary.

Today the hulls of all three ships, the Triumphant, the Soleil-Royal and the Admirable, lie wedged deep down in the sand. Only since the authorities of the port have set about making Cherbourg into one of the great world ports capable of receiving the largest liners have dredging operations brought to light vestiges of the treasure ships that remain buried beneath the channel way which is now in process of being deepened.

The Triumphant, covered by a layer of sand 15 feet deep, is the first to be unearthed, but as yet no signs of gold or silver have been found. The Soleil-Royal is believed to hold the riches. Cannon projectiles used by the French fleet in 1682 have been recovered and are to be sent to the war museum in Paris.

British Royal Family

Are Tireless Readers

London.—The British royal family is exceptionally well read. The duke and duchess of York insisted on having a parcel of new books sent them every week during their Australian tour.

The taste of the duchess, who is the greater reader of the two, tends toward classical literature. The duke is interested in books on sporting subjects and likes to read a good detective story.

The prince of Wales, at York house, has an interesting collection of books on travel in various countries, most of them dealing with places visited during his tours.

Just Smart

New York.—The daughter of the youngest girl at Smith college regards her as not a prodigy, but just smart. Marjorie Harbo, fifteen years old, started school at four.

New York May Win Testimonial

American Legion Testimonial of Appreciation for Membership Work Expected to be Awarded to Some Officer in Empire State.

New York, April 7.—American Legion departmental and some post officers of this state have a chance to win the coveted "Savage Testimonial of Appreciation" this year. Ralph W. Neelands, department adjutant of the Legion for this state, said today in reviewing the rapid increase of membership throughout the country, as reported from national headquarters in Indianapolis, this testimonial is awarded under certain rules for membership work. Last year 410 officers, departmental or post, of this state, received this testimonial from National Commander McQuigg under the same rules that govern the issuance of the cards this year.

The testimonial is the Legion's most popular form of recognition from national headquarters and constitutes virtually the only thing of such a nature going direct from the national commander. Membership work is one of the major objectives of the Legion, because experience has proven that the Legion's power for good, in community service and all other endeavors is as great as its numbers.

The cards are issued to state officers when the department equals or exceeds by September 19 the average membership of the preceding four years. The cards are issued to the commander and adjutant of a post when the post accomplishes the same objective.

The state adjutant also announced that three medals, one of gold, one of silver, and a bronze will be awarded again this year by national headquarters to the three persons getting the highest number of members for the Legion for 1927.

This contest is open to all Legionnaires in good standing, and being world-wide in scope, the honor of being the top leader is one that caused keen competition last year. Frank B. Gloggiotti, of Rome, Italy, won the gold medal last year with a score of 1,310 members. William C. Mundt, of Bloomington, Illinois, won the silver medal with 901, and Fritz Blumenthal, Oklahoma City, the bronze, with 785 members.

"Well, I'm at the end of my rope," said the man throwing away the stub of a cheap cigar.

Brilliant Retreat

Xenophon, the Greek military leader and historian, lived from about the year 430 to 355 B. C. In 401 B. C. he joined a body of 10,000 Greek mercenaries serving under Cyrus in Persia. Cyrus was slain, and it devolved upon Xenophon to lead home the Greeks over the mountains of Armenia, through a hostile and rugged country to the Black sea. He performed the great feat and wrote an account of the retreat of the 10,000, which is used in college today as a Greek reader.

the new ATLANTIC PARAFFINE BASE MOTOR OIL

AN OIL so unchanging in character that it virtually will not wear out! . . .

So unyielding that the most savage attacks of pressure and friction cannot break through the protective film it forms. . . .

So pure and stable that there is practically no evaporation, even under the highest motor heat. . . .

The evaporation test

Evaporation under heat greatly reduces the volume and efficiency of ordinary motor oils. Study these remarkable tests:

At 480° Fahrenheit nine representative "medium" motor oils, under test, showed an evaporation loss of 19% or greater.

At 480° Fahrenheit the new Atlantic Paraffine Base Motor Oil (medium), under identically the same test, showed an evaporation loss of only 3%.

The Atlantic Refining Company, with refineries at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Franklin, Pennsylvania, has long been known to the refining industry. It has contributed many discoveries to refining science. Atlantic Paraffine Base Motor Oil is one of them.

Kingston Owes Debt to Stuyvesant

Famous Dutch Governor Responsible for City's Size—Writer Suggests Kingstonians Know Their Debtors in Some Additional Way.

In a quiet way, New York City is remembering the days of old, which we are trying to commemorate. While no great civic celebration was held last year, except the Erie Canal opening, one and another small organization has contributed its bit, so the whole may be greater in the end, though the years of 1926 and 1927 are centenaries of many remarkable epoch-making events in the country's development.

A group of men and women gathered on Saturday afternoon, despite the gray skies and March wind, which were depressing enough to dampen the spirits of any but enthusiasts who had a vision of the future and of what our beginnings mean to that future.

The Society of Colonial Daughters of the Seventeenth Century had sought to mark one of our earliest homes, that known as White Hall of Governor Petrus Stuyvesant. On the site stands one of the big business buildings, near steamship row, and at the meeting of White Hall and State streets, opposite the Battery. Near it is still standing a home of almost modern day, compared to that of three hundred years ago. State street was "quality row"—where such men as Philip Hone were to be found. Robert Fulton lived on the site of Whitehall building, too. It had been the home of later governors as well as of the greatest man of the pre-English period.

Through the gift to the New York Historical Society, made by Robert Van Rensselaer Stuyvesant in 1909, we can all see the real features of Petrus Stuyvesant, humanly portrayed by another Dutchman, Jacobus Gerritsen Strycker, get his personal life.

This vigorous work, connoisseurs have said, has a remarkable Rembrandt feeling, so much so that if a coat of yellow varnish were given to it, it would be called the work of Rembrandt or a pupil of Rembrandt. The eyes are remarkable, and the humor lies in them, as well as in the mouth. Why the governor has been characterized as stern and irascible passes understanding. From this work one could believe that he and Strycker were having a friendly tilt, and whose was the last jest? From the twinkle in his eye it could have been the governor's himself.

The tablet has put in bronze and where the poor and casual passer-by, who knows not that the Historical Society exists, may see and perhaps yet come to love the vigorous old soldier, who held a public office for so long, that he should be used as an example in these days. To him public office was a public trust—not as too many today make it—"a public office is a private cinch."

The artist has been most happy in catching the soul of the man, as Strycker knew him.

Kingston owes a debt to Petrus Stuyvesant, for the site on which it stands. Give Kingstonians an opportunity by copying this tablet, to know their benefactor, in some other way than by a hotel and an obscure street.

INVITING DISHES

For those who cannot eat meat often a main dish is a problem which needs thought, as it must contain nourishment and at the same time be attractive enough to appeal to the taste.

Carrots With Rice.—Scrape and cut into thick slices a dozen small carrots, cook them tender in a seasoned stock to cover. Prepare a white sauce and place the carrots with cooked rice in alternate layers with the white sauce, season well, cover with buttered crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown.

Noodles With Peppers.—Those who like the flavor of the green pepper will enjoy this dish: Cook sufficient noodles to serve the family; when tender drain and add a small can of pimientos, the canned red peppers, add a cupful of stock or gravy, salt and pepper and a tablespoonful of butter. Simmer together for ten minutes and serve hot.

Spanish Rice.—Chop one small onion fine, add one chopped green pepper and cook ten minutes in two tablespoonfuls of oil. Add four sliced tomatoes and one-half cupful of hot water. Cook to the boiling point, then add a cupful of rice. Cook slowly one hour, adding more water if needed to keep it moist. The rice should be previously cooked before adding to this dish.

Curried Cauliflower.—Roll a firm white head of cauliflower in salted water; when tender, drain and pour over it the following: Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add a tablespoonful of chopped onion, two teaspoonfuls of flour and one of curry powder, a teaspoonful of chopped apple; cook all together, then add one cupful each of water and milk with salt to season, pour over the cauliflower and serve at once.

Cottage Cheese Soup.—Take a pint of milk, a tablespoonful of butter, the same of flour cooked together, half a teaspoonful of salt, pepper to taste and a half cupful of cheese. Add onion juice to season if liked. Melt the butter, add flour and cook, then add the milk and cheese.

Sports Clothes Are, If Possible, More Important Than Ever—Scene Prints and Small Metal Designs in Wool Contrasts are Interest.

Palm Beach—Anyone who has followed fashion reports from the south must realize the importance of sports clothes. Women have fallen into the comfortable habit of dressing in the morning and not again after dinner, unless some particularly formal function is to be attended.

It is true that sports clothes are very much more elaborate in detail than formerly. There are all sorts of intricate tuckings effects, many of which are in diagonal or diamond design, and there are even evidences of embroidery, often in metal threads, or of trimmings made of bands of dyed lace or applied bands of grosgrain ribbon.

The practice of employing fabric contrasts also makes for a more elaborate effect, so that sports clothes may be said to be glorified, even though they retain a relative simplicity and are more or less unchanged in silhouette. While belts are a characteristic addition to the two-piece dress, and the smartest

Dresses for day wear are two-piece, they do not make any indentation at the waist-line, and while skirts are pleated, they retain a straight silhouette.

Cardigans or slip-ons of fine halibron and other knitted effects, including boucle, help in the effort every woman is putting forth to have her jumper of a different texture, if not a different color, than her skirt. The use of the smooth and dull side of a crepe satin is a very unusual method for obtaining such contrasts, while obviously the use of plain and printed or striped materials will be approved.

Many novelty knishes and other light-weight wools have small metal figures distributed uniformly over their surfaces. With the exception of these effects, some scenic prints, and small all-over floral patterns, it can scarcely be said to be a season of printed fabrics. There are, however, many stripes used and some plaids, but nearly always in conjunction with plain materials.

Gene Sarazen Grins; He Beats Walter Hagen

Yanks and Giants Win, Robins Lose

New York, April 7 (AP).—The Yanks and the Giants today knew the satisfaction that goes with errorless baseball while the Robins had the less pleasant recollection of having paid the price of errors by losing a game.

The Robins made two yesterday and broke an eight game winning streak by dropping one to the Atlanta crackers. The culprits were young Partridge and Old Bill Doak, and both miscues came in the seventh. Partridge failed to scoop Gilbert's grounder and a minute or two later Doak, the spitballer, let Gilbert go home when the threat of a double steal had the pitcher a bit rattled. Atlanta won, 3 to 1.

Meanwhile the Yankees let down the Cards 5 to 4, in the seventh game of the "spring world series," thereby making sure the Cards won't win it. A home run by Joe Judge in the fourth with the bases filled, plus a run in the extra inning tenth, did the trick. The last game of the series is today at Nashville.

As for the Giants, they had a good old fashioned home run party and won from the Senators, 6-3, making six for New York and two for Washington. They play four more games.

Retelsch Wins Back Title.

Chicago, April 7 (AP).—Otto Retelsch of Philadelphia has won back the world's three-cushion championship, held for seven weeks by Augie Kleckhefer of Chicago. Retelsch last night finished a five block match of 300 points against Kleckhefer with a lead of sixty points over the Chicagoan. Only one sixty point block went to Kleckhefer, while two of them he was beaten 60-20 and 60-37.

Bobby Cruikshank's showing in the North and South open tourney at Pinehurst, N. C., in which he won his fourth big money event of the winter golf season, makes it appear that he will be Walter Hagen's and Bobby Jones' principal rival this season. Two new photos of Bobby are above.

Konchina and Mack in Shape For Bout Friday

Fighters Who Will Appear at Armory Friday are in Fine Condition—Four Reserved Seats Left—Officials Named.

Two husky men who have the same great ambition, are doing their "daily drudgery" and then some more, to strengthen their muscles in arms, legs, toes and whole body, for their supreme effort Friday night when they face each other in the arena at the armory boxing show. Both aim for the same goal but only one can win.

Gene Mack, New Paltz prize, urged on by thoughts of winning from his pugilistic record a big setback administered when he was recently knocked out, has devoted strenuous efforts to conditioning himself for the big struggle against the man who made him forget everything, Frankie Konchina. Ever since "Konchina" swung the haymaker, the New Paltz lad has waited and worked hard in a great endeavor to stage a comeback. Gene is going after the bacon strong. Out in New Paltz Gene hits the road early every morning for a long jog along the highway, seeking to lengthen his breathing and build up his endurance. Shadow-boxing has improved his footwork and given him a better gauge of distance. He is in the best condition of his career and has no fear for his next encounter with the knockout lad from downriver.

Although Konchina made short work of Mack in the first round in their last encounter, Frankie realizes he has a big task on his hands Friday night. He does not underestimate his opponent's ability with the gloves, but still feels confident that he will prove more than a match for Mack. In fairness to Konchina, it may be stated that he had practically risen from a sickbed when Fisher won an unpopular decision over him at the last armory show. Konchina offered no comment on the judges' decision, merely saying they knew their business.

Now, by diligent training Frankie has recovered his health and feels stronger than ever. He has also jogged the country roads to build up his stamina. Always a brainy fighter, with a powerful punch in both hands, Frankie has added materially to his pugilistic skill by greatly improving his footwork in the ring. He is faster on his feet than ever before, and believes he can tire Mack with his speed.

Which has the most speed is a hard question. Both men are strongly built and about the same size. Mack may have an advantage in reach but not much for Frankie to worry about. Gene also packs a terrific wallop, but Frankie banks on his speed to keep him out of reach of K. Konchina has demonstrated that he is able to take hard punishment without a whimper and Mack is made of the same kind of goods. All sciences may be forgotten when these two warriors battle toe to toe with the sole purpose of hammering and slamming each other into submission, keeping an eye open for a chance to send home a terrific punch that will stretch his opponent motionless on the canvas.

The bouts are arranged in sections as on the previous occasions. Twenty bouts, ten legions and ten armory men, will be divided among the sections and take care of the fans. There are a few reserved seats left for sale at the armory.

Thomas Connolly, of New York, has been secured to referee the bouts. John Daley and Frank Sheridan, who were judges before, will continue in that capacity again. Richard Malone, of New York, who wouldn't give a second to his best friend, or steal a second from his worst enemy, will officiate with the watch. Thomas Coughlin, well known local attorney, will tell the people what it's all about from the center of the ring.

HIGH FAULTS

High Falls, April 7.—There will be preaching in the Reformed Church on Sunday morning, April 10, at 10:30 by Mr. Helen.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet on Thursday afternoon in the lecture room of the church. All members are urged to be present as there will be considerable business to transact. Election of officers for the ensuing year will also be held.

Mrs. E. D. Kortright arrived at her home in this place on Friday after spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Grant Young, on Long Island.

Mrs. Ralph Stokes and daughter from The Grove spent last week with her aunt, Mrs. M. E. Shesley.

Mrs. Mary Stevens entertained some relatives over night last week at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. David Van Wageningen are the proud parents of a baby boy born to them March 28. Mrs. Wynkoop is caring for Mrs. Van Wageningen and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Smith of Herkonia spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. P. Teagle.

Herbert Snyder left on Sunday for Poughkeepsie where he has a position with the Travis Bakery Company.

Mrs. Oscar Church has returned home after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. F. Bane of Greenwich, Conn.

Miss Bertha Ghaur has returned home from the south where she has been employed during the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Benjamin and family of New Paltz were callers at the home of Mrs. Martha Shesley on Sunday afternoon.

Leslie Hoffman has returned home from Florida.

Thirty-five French mothers have been found with a total of 242 living children. This ought to brighten up the statisticians who are worrying about the next war.

K. of C. to Have Fast Ball Club

Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, will again be represented by a semi-pro baseball team this summer. The Knights last year had a team on the field that was able to hold its own with any of the clubs in this section. "Bill" Dwyer, promoter of sport activities at the local council, is authority for the statement that the Casey team this year will be the best that ever represented Kingston Council.

Last year the Kingston Council was the only outfit in this section to register wins over such clubs as Oneonta, Port Jervis and Hudson, and all of these games were played away from home. In fact, the local team was the only club that defeated Port Jervis last summer.

It is the intention of the Knights to be represented by all "local talent" and any baseball player in the city will be available for a tryout. They feel that there is plenty of talent locally that can cope with some of the best semi-pro outfits on the road.

Several bookings have already been secured and new uniforms are to be ordered as soon as the various men are lined up.

Joe Quinn, who handled the club last season, has again been selected to handle the managerial reins. Quinn, also piloted the K. of C. basketball club last winter.

CONTRACT MUST BEAR TWO SIGNATURES

New York, April 7 (P).—The highly technical and pugilistic question, "when is a contract not a contract?" is settled once and for all times so far as this state's athletic commissions are concerned.

A learned opinion handed down yesterday rules that unless the document bears the signatures of two (2) combatants, it is not a contract, no matter how much it looks like one. In other words, the popular practice among fight promoters of taking "blanket" options on the services of boxers has received a knockout blow.

A few of the whimsical hereabouts are figuring it out that, in the light of the latest edict, Tex Rickard has no contract at all with Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey, Jack Delaney, Jim Maloney or Jack Sharkey. If a rival promoter should get the signatures of one of them and of an opponent, the other promoter would have the only binding contract in sight.

The Finest Eight Performance without Penalty of High Cost

UNTIL the coming of the Hupmobile Eight, this most luxurious form of motoring entailed both high first cost and prohibitive cost of upkeep.

Hupmobile changed all previous conceptions of eight-cylinder performance with a straight-eight of elemental simplicity, designed to give superior smoothness on long fuel mileage.

Thus Hupmobile removed the last obstacles which had prevented thousands from driving an eight, demonstrated its superiority over the higher-priced sixes, and won the largest straight-eight following in the world.

The only way to appreciate the vast difference between Hupmobile Eight and lesser types is to drive this Eight yourself.

Machine Guns, Gangs' Deadliest Weapon, Now Stretch Trail of Death to Detroit

Slain by Weapons
That Spew Bullets
by Hundreds

DETROIT—(Special)—Machine gun fighting—war's gift to gangland—has spread to Detroit.

Crime, as an organized business, has stridden many large American cities. Chicago is the outstanding victim. With organization comes efficiency, and gangsters have found nothing more efficient than the machine gun for silencing tongues or eliminating rivals.

This fact was forcibly brought home to the Detroit police when Frank Wright, said to have been an underworld character, and two companions were riddled with bullets.

It is said by the authorities that the machine gun which is gaining favor with the bandits and gunmen of today is of a type similar to that used by the marines in guarding the United States mails, is capable of firing 400 aimed shots per minute, and is made on the order of the ordinary rifle, with the reserve chamber built under a portion of the barrel.

However, the Colt automatic field gun of the rifle calibre type mounted on the rear seat of an automobile was known to have been commonly used by Chicago's criminals in their most recent warfare. This gun has

A firing capacity of 450 or more shots per minute, while its four detachable feed boxes, attached to the loading apparatus, each have a capacity of 250 rounds of ammunition.

The Colt, according to the police, still is the favorite weapon of the modern gunman, because of the ease with which it can be operated. After the first shot is fired, loading, firing and ejection of the shell are performed automatically by the powder gases, as long as the operator presses the trigger. This gun has a killing range of two and one-half miles.

In one or two instances during the warfare in Chicago the police ascertained that one of the gunmen's automobiles during a weekly fire-being used in the underworld of Detroit. Three persons have been shot to death.

up carried a Browning automatic rifle of the fifteen pound type, and which is capable of firing twenty shots before the finger can again be removed from the trigger.

In most large cities it has been discovered that the professional criminal found a political affiliation was as necessary as his blackjack, and through this connection has been successful in acquiring the permits necessary in securing the guns, ammunition, etc., so essential in applying his particular trade.

In his last and recent annual report to Washington the Federal District Attorney at Chicago charged that $30,000,000 a year is paid for protection in that city alone, while the bootleggers did $100,000,000 worth of booze and vice business during the last year. He stated also that "canceled checks proved that more than $30,000,000 in bank paper was made payable to public officials and fixers."

Pays Doctor's Fee with Enemy's Head

This picture shows wife of Dr. H. S. Dickey holding the preserved head of a savage presented to her husband as a fee. Note springs hanging from mouth. These are sewed into the lips by the savage so the head cannot curse its assassins.

THE head of an Anguash chief, just brought to New York by Dr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Dickey, bears mute witness that everything is fair in love and war even among certain of the head-hunting tribes of savages that infest the dense and tangled jungle lands of South America along the banks of the great Amazon.

According to Dr. Dickey, the head is that of a former head-hunting chief who suddenly was made to part from this life, not because of being loved too well, but because he most unwisely lavished his affections on a woman.

Dr. Dickey, who by profession is a physician and by avocation an explorer, received the gruesome token several months ago in the way of a "fee" from one of the Anguash chiefs for having saved his life at a time when the tribe's medicine men had abandoned all hopes for his recovery.

As the story goes, the victim, whose head now is in the doctor's possession, was about twenty years old, and had suddenly decided that he would increase his responsibilities by taking unto himself another wife.

During his wanderings the young fellow espied the woman after whom he had sought, and one night stole her away and took her to his camp.

His supposedly new wife, however, happened to be the property of one of his fellow chiefs, and when the theft had been discovered his action was promptly retaliated by the doctor's patient, who proved to be the better man in what might properly be described as an Indian "love tilt."

In order to preserve the head the natives first smoke it to preserve the flesh, after which hot sand is used to shrink it.

PEKING AND MOSCOW
MAY BREAK RELATIONS.

Peking, April 7 (AP)—Severance of relations between Peking and Moscow was regarded as probable in many quarters today, as a consequence of yesterday's raid on several buildings near the Soviet embassy in Peking.
The authorities of the Ankuchow, or allied northern army, stated that the raid produced "overwhelming evidence" that the Soviet union was deeply involved in plots to overthrow law and order in north China.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 7 (AP)—Continuation of a heavy investment demand imparted strength to the high grade rails and industrials in today's stock market, which was featured by the establishment of the highest prices in over 20 years by New York Central and American Telephone. The rest of the list presented considerable irregularity, with weak spots cropping out in a number of motion pictures, electrical refrigeration, sugar and tobacco shares.

New York Central assumed the leadership of the rail group by moving up above $150 a share on a large volume of trading. Atchafon, Illinois Central, Louisville and Nashville, Baltimore and Ohio, Lackawanna, Union Pacific, Lehigh Valley and Chesapeake and Ohio, all moved up two points or more, and Atlantic Coast Line jumped 7. Buying was influenced by the speculative belief that the federal courts would upset the Interstate Commerce Commission's valuations when attempts were made to use them as a base for rate making purposes.

New financing by the Fox Film Corporation and predictions of an unfavorable federal trade commission decision in the Famous Players case were given as the reasons for the weakness of the motion picture shares. Renewed selling of electric refrigeration was inspired by fears for the safety of the dividend.

Pools were again active in a number of specialties. Woolworth being bid up to a new high record in the early afternoon on reports of an usually favorable pre-Easter trade.
General Motors and U. S. Steel common held fairly steady around 183 and 172 respectively with large blocks of stock offered just above those levels.

Mrs. Chandler Talks to Girls

The Wednesday night supper of the Business Girls' Club at the Y.
W. C. A. was a particularly happy affair. A "Who's Who" game had been planned, each girl or guest present having been asked to bring a photo of herself taken in childhood. These were passed around and a prize was offered the girl who guessed who the most photos represented. Miss Carrie Herrmann won the prize, and only those who have recently looked over old family photos can appreciate the fun that the girls had during this part of the evening.
There was another treat when Mrs. George F. Chandler told the girls about her recent trip to the West Indies, and in so doing gave such a cleverly personal and human touch to her story with many touches of humor, that the girls felt as though they, too, had visited the West Indies.

Next Wednesday is to be another red letter night for the Business Girls, for at their supper at that time, Miss Oolooah Burner of the National Y. W. Board, a speaker of national repute, will be the speaker.
It has been very difficult to secure Miss Burner, and because of her presence it is hoped that there will be an exceptionally big attendance at the supper.

Recital at First Dutch Church

of music, brought out the full beauty of the harp.

"Fear Not, O Israel," by Max Spicker, was splendidly sung by the choir of the church with incidental solos by Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Doty, Mr. La Tour and Mr. Finley, soloists of the choir.

The last half of the program included a lovely "Angelus" by Massenet; Bach's "Cathedral Prelude and Fugue," "probably the most emotionally appealing fugue ever written," and one of the musical masterpieces of the evening it was followed by a much lighter composition by John Sebastian Bach, "Anna Magdalena's March," which he wrote in the "Sketch-Book" for his young wife, Anna Magdalena.

"Memories" by Dickinson, was another lovely organ number. One of the most beautiful and worshipful numbers of the entire evening was the singing of the incomparable Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria." (English translation) by Mrs. Benjamin W. Johnston, soprano, with accompaniment of the organ especially the harp by M. Frodenburgh.

Two delightful organ numbers were "Bergens of Zoom," a thrilling stirring old Dutch patriotic tune, and "Old Dutch Cradle Song," arranged by Dr. Dickinson.

Everyone enjoyed the "Musical Swiss-Box," representing a tiny Swiss music-box, by Lindqvist, a distinguished Russian composer. The program closed with that commanding, rugged, beautiful "Norwegian Rhapsody" by Christian Sinding, bringing into play, all of the notable features of the entire organ.
